ber of Commerce takes rather a different view. Here the supervision of European officers in the working of cargo cannot be dispensed with, and the Chamber is not prepared to recommend that work should be topped. It is pointed out that Hongkony is not a terminus, the bulk of its ocean traffic ending a! Shanghai, where "bar" obstacles are met and that the loss of a 'ay in Hongkong might lead to most serious pecuniary sastifice to shipowners. As between employers and employed it does not appear that this argument possesses much force, for the stoppage of work here can hardly involve greater pecuniary sacrifics than it does at Shanghai itself. On the other hund, however, it is urged that the incidence of Sunday, work on the officers of ocean atcamers is less frequent than with those on the coast, and that on the average duration of an ocean voyage, say four months, un occasional Sunday's work in Hongkong does not appear to the Committee of the Chamber to present an intolerable burden to officers. But though not intolerable, the burden is one which it is very natural the officers should wish to get rid of. Those employed on coasting steamers have practically obtained what they desired for themselves, and it now remains for the officers of the ocean stemmers to see if they cannot secure the same boon through the home associations, or, failing the cessation of Sunday labour, a recognition of the prin ciple of extra payment for such labour when it has to be performed.

Board that the Government should commence taking steps as soon as possible for the abatement of overcrowding will, it is to be hoped, receive the attention it deserves. The Goverument has a good many irons in the fire at present, but no question can possess more Clarke. Puisne Judge; the Hon. E. J. Ackroydimportance than that of the health of the community. The report of the Sanitary Board's Committee showed that very serious and dangerous overcrowding does exist in certain parts of the city. On the other hand, there are a great many vacant houses in the extreme cust and west, and if the overgrowded population in the sentre could be induced to spread outwards a great improvement might be effected. The Committee of the Sanitary Board bave, publiced mit some of the means by which a voluntary movement in this direction might be out oraged, as, for instance, by the provision of improved means of access and increased police protection for the outlying districts. In addition, compulsory powers for the abatement of overcrowding are conferred by the Public Health Ordinance, but they are to be applied only to such districts as may from time to time be designated by an order of the Governor in Council. the issue of such an order the Santtary Board way proceed against un overcrowded house as a nuisance. It is quite true that the duty on Malwa prium was reduced by ra.50 some three months ago, but this step was taken not in the interests of the Chiefs of the oultivators, but simply because the export-trade was practically at a standstill owing to Chinese competition and the Government were suffering a serious loss of revenu.
